Sir,

As NASC President, I write on behalf of the members of the National Access & Scaffolding Confederation to offer our condolences following the death of your mother, Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II.

In a lifetime of unparalleled service and devotion to duty, Her Majesty's commitment and dedication to a vast array of charities and worthy causes was recognised by all, not just here in the UK, but on a truly global scale.

Scaffolders, and all those who work at height in the construction industry, have, during their lifetimes, known no other monarch of Great Britain and Northern Ireland.

I am confident that they will join me in expressing our warmest and heartfelt thanks for a truly selfless contribution. One which has ensured that Her Majesty will always be held in the very highest regard.

Whilst writing, we would also take the opportunity to express our support for you, as you commence your reign as His Majesty King Charles III. We wish you careful guidance and sound judgement as you embark on this journey.

Yours,
